

Make the Law Come Alive

Volunteer Your Time • Share Your Knowledge • Make a Difference

“One of the greatest duties of any generation, and particularly of its bar, is to transmit the idea of freedom and the rule of law to the next generation.”

- United States Supreme Court Justice Anthony M. Kennedy

The State Bar of Georgia has created an education center designed to introduce students to the law. The facility includes a state-of-the-art gallery with interactive exhibits, a fully-functioning courtroom and a reproduction of Woodrow Wilson's 1882 Atlanta law office. Students will tour the center and learn how the law influences their lives.

The education center distinguishes Georgia from every other state bar association in the country, and we believe that having law students and attorneys host our student guests will provide a tangible connection to the law.

In order to make the center a living expression of the law, we need your help. Consider volunteering as a docent. You can help us demonstrate citizenship ideals with students from all over the state and beyond. Each volunteer will be scheduled two to three times per year to guide four-hour tours.

Docent Training

Tuesday, Oct. 31, 2006

10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

State Bar of Georgia

Morning refreshments and lunch will be provided

Parking is available in the Bar parking deck - tickets will be validated

To register for the Oct. 31 training contact Marlene Melvin at carsonmelvin@comcast.net

