Who Are Young Lawyers?

Membership in the Young Lawyers Division is automatic for Georgia attorneys who are under the age of 36 or who have been admitted to their first bar less than five years. There are almost 10,000 “young lawyers” statewide.

How Can You Get Involved?

Join a Committee

The YLD is comprised of more than 25 committees—one for every interest! Sign up for a committee online at georgiayld.org or on the form found on page 15.

Attend a Meeting

The YLD has five general membership meetings a year (listed on page 12). Sign up to receive notice of meetings and other events online or on the form found on page 15.

Be a Leader

The YLD has a variety of leadership opportunities that are described in this brochure. To get involved, contact the YLD at yld@gabar.org.

What is the YLD?

On May 31, 1947, what is now the Young Lawyers Division of the State Bar of Georgia, commonly known as the YLD, was formed. Today, the YLD is one of the most dynamic arms of the Bar, offering outreach to both the profession and the public through various legal programs and projects.

Over the years, the YLD's various committees have accomplished amazing things. For example, the Young Lawyers Division is recognized as the moving force behind the Georgia Legal Services Program. In 1968, the YLD initiated a study to address the needs of the poor, concluding that there was a distressing disproportion between the actual need for legal services by those who could not afford them and the present supply of legal services available to them. As a result of reports like these, the Georgia Legal Services Program was created in 1971.

The YLD is also the source of the Georgia High School Mock Trial Program. Founded in 1987, it has grown into a nationally recognized educational program.

Another project credited to the YLD is the rewrite of Georgia's Juvenile Justice Code. In 2004, the YLD secured funding to create a model juvenile code, and the YLD's Juvenile Law Committee spearheaded an entire overhaul of the previous code. The governor's Criminal Justice Reform Council focused on reforms to Georgia's juvenile law and legislation was passed unanimously by the Georgia General Assembly during the 2013 legislative session to rewrite and recognize Georgia's juvenile law.

The YLD has been recognized numerous times since its inception with various awards both regionally and nationally from the American Bar Association Young Lawyers Division.

There are almost 10,000

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Whether you are a brand-new lawyer, or have been around for a bit, I am thrilled to have you as a member of the State Bar of Georgia's Young Lawyers Division (YLD)! I am honored and excited to serve as the 75th president of the Georgia YLD and I hope that you will take the time this year to join in our innovative programming and meetings throughout the state. Regardless of where you practice, geographically speaking, or your area of practice, the YLD has a place for you.

The YLD is referred to as the "service arm" of the State Bar of Georgia and provides multiple opportunities for our members to serve the public and our profession. I am proud of the YLD's many accomplishments throughout the years which include the development of a free wills clinic for veterans and first responders which has provided vital probate documents for hundreds of clients across Georgia, the YLD Poll Worker Program which provided Georgia lawyers with CLE credit for working the polls on election day last November, and the Georgia Legal Services Program which began as a YLD program many years ago and now serves thousands of clients in 154 rural Georgia counties. The YLD also provides access to leadership development programs such as our Leadership Academy and provides countless educational and networking opportunities through our quarterly meetings, committee events, and affiliate outreach.

I hope that you will join us for one of our quarterly meetings this year, many of which will be held in conjunction with the State Bar of Georgia Board of Governors meetings, and consider signing up to join one (or more!) of our committees. Our committees host events and meetings throughout the year and all meetings this year will offer a virtual component for those unable to attend in person. If you have any questions about the YLD or how to get involved, please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly.

I look forward to meeting each of you!

Regards,

Elissa B. Haynes

What Can the YLD Do For You?

Opportunities for Service

With a mission of service, the YLD offers many avenues for young lawyers to give back to their communities and to the profession. As you read the committee descriptions that follow, please note the opportunities that each offer for service. Additionally, the YLD conducts a service project at each of its general membership meetings.

Great Networking Opportunities

The activities and projects of the YLD put you in touch with lawyers in your practice area, others with similar interests and Georgia's legislative and judicial leaders from every corner of the state.

Leadership Opportunities

There are many opportunities within the YLD to develop and grow leadership skills and abilities. These include chairing a committee, serving on the YLD Executive Committee or Representative Council, and applying to the Leadership Academy.

- Committee Chairs: The success of YLD committees depends heavily on the initiative, leadership and foresight of its members. If you have vision and leadership potential, we invite you to request appointment by the president as a chair or co-chair of a committee.
- Executive Committee: For those with long-range leadership goals, you may wish to seek office in the YLD. There are five elected officer positions: president, president-elect, treasurer, secretary and immediate past president. Further, the president appoints the newsletter editors and a board of directors.
- Representative Council: The governing body of the YLD includes the Executive Committee and the Representative Council, which is comprised of elected representatives from each of the three federal judicial districts, as well as at-large and out-of-state representatives. The council helps direct and implement the various programs of the YLD.
- Leadership Academy: The YLD Leadership Academy is a program for young lawyers who are interested in developing their leadership skills as well as learning more about their profession, their communities and their state, all while earning a year's worth of CLE credit. The academy meets once a month for six months beginning in January. Participants are selected through an application process that begins in October.
